IEC of Georgia 2019 Grant Recipient

IEC Foundation Home Depot ProXtra Program

The IEC Foundation's partnership with the Home Depot ProXtra Program was started under the leadership of chairman, Tom Alexander in 2015. The program has grown tremendously over the years putting over $1 million dollars in funding toward support for

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations 2020 The Home Depot ProXtra Chapter Development Grant Recipients:

IEC and the electrical systems contracting industry.

When asked about his vision for the program Tom said:

"In 2015 when the program began, I was given the opportunity by Greg Haren, Foundation Chairman, to structure the grants IECF would offer. Our vision was to support the smaller chapters and give them an opportunity to have the best classrooms and training labs possible. In the last four years, the program has allowed us to generate over $1 million dollars in funds for IEC Foundation. We have been able to do this with just a small amount of participation in the Home Depot ProXtra Program from IEC members. I believe the funds generated from this program can easily generate over a million dollars yearly for IEC chapters and apprentices. That is my vision for the program. To do that we need everyone's support and participation".

Lindsey K. Hill, National Account's Manager for The Home Depot, also supports the IEC Foundation as a Board Trustee. She shared The Home Depot's commitment to the ProXtra Program for IEC saying: "The Home Depot is truly excited about the partnership with IEC! Together, we have an opportunity to make a HUGE impact on growing the Electrical Industry in this country. The Home Depot Foundation has committed $50M through 2028 to educate high school students in underserved communities on the trades. And where The Home Depot stops, IEC begins!!! In addition to some great individual benefits for IEC Members, through the Pro Xtra Program, The Home Depot is able to contribute 0.5% of every dollar spent by IEC Members to the IEC Foundation. The IEC Foundation uses those funds toward Apprenticeship Education, Chapter Development, Facility Improvements, etc. These improvements then help to drive enrollments in the Apprenticeship Program and overall IEC Membership. By working together, this partnership allows everyone to win! And who wouldn't be excited about that!"

The Home Depot continues to provide generous support to our industry, IEC and IEC Foundation. The Home Depot ProXtra funding from 2019 that will be donated to the IEC Foundation is $297,306.33! Thank you to our IEC Platinum Partner, The Home Depot, for continued support and sponsorship of IEC Foundation programs. This funding will be used to support current programs and launch new programs in 2021. Thank you to the IEC membership for your participation which made this donation possible!

To everyone working in life sustaining fields-We thank you & we appreciate you! May you & your families stay safe & healthy during these uncertain times.
